

WOODLANDS NEWSLETTER

On Wednesday 5th February, we are delighted to be joined by Educatering, our catering company between 4.30-6pm for their tasting menu for parents. This will be available in the hallway for you to sample and enjoy!

Food Hygiene Inspection

We are delighted to share we were inspected by the Environmental Health Officer at the end of January who awarded us a very strong 5 star rating!

Please can we kindly ask you to upload a picture of yourself on your child's Parentzone account which helps us get to know you all!

Experience Books

We have a range of books relating to experiences which might be happening at home, such as a new baby, moving house etc...These are available in the hallway to borrow. Please return after to use! Thank you

Photography and Mobile Phones

Please can we remind all families we do not allow photos to be taken in the nursery or the use of mobile phones. Thank you for your cooperation with this.

First Aid

Thank you for those who joined us for parents first aid which was a very informative session. We have also run a session for our squirrels children introducing them to mini first aid which was a great learning opportunity.

Staffing Update

We are delighted to be joined by Jess and Annie. Jess has joined our hedgehog team as a practitioner and Annie has joined our Squirrels team as a part time teacher. Emily Bettles is back doing some kit days before we welcome her back to Woodlands after her maternity leave.
